

Examining entanglement of mixed states via analytical and numerical methods

A.M KHVEDELIDZE^{1,2}, I.A. ROGOJIN¹, AND A.H. TOROSYAN¹

¹*Laboratory of Information Technologies, Joint Institute for Nuclear Research, Dubna, Russia*

²*Institute of Quantum Physics and Engineering Technologies, Georgian Technical University, Tbilisi, Georgia*

Contact Email: astghik@jinr.ru

The presentation aims to exemplify the quantification issues of "separability/entanglement" phenomenon by bipartite systems, composed of qubit-qubit or qubit-qutrit pairs in the so-called X-states. The probability distributions of the entanglement characteristics and numerical results for the probability of finding these systems in the separable mixed states are presented.